DIPLOMA in Community Services

Australian Qualifications Training Framework Approved (AQTF)

“We cannot hold a torch to light another's path without brightening our own.” - Ben Sweetland

The Diploma in Community Services is an Extraordinary 9 day Experiential Residential Training program designed to meet all the competency requirements of the Australian Qualifications Training Framework.

The Diploma in Community Services takes the knowledge and skills gained in the Certificate IV in Community Services to a deeper level while also adding new, more advanced ideas, concepts and skills.

The main topics covered in the Diploma in Community Services are:

- ★ Cycles of relationships and emotions
- ★ Patterns of relationships
- ★ The way the mind and brain works

The Course is presented in the same large and small group formats. You will have information presented to you in a variety of ways.

- ★ Lively group discussions
- ★ DVD's from world-renowned specialists such as Candace Pert, Peter Levine, Bruce Lipton, Gregg Baden and others.
- ★ There will be fascinating lectures presenting Universal principles, including using Ancient Wisdom from the Dead Sea Scrolls to assist clients with choices during crises
- ★ Specific interventions and processes to use with clients all written out in your manual for future reference.
- ★ Time for questions and answers

It is assumed that you have developed the skills to monitor and maintain your own emotions while participating in the Diploma Course. We recommend you bring a journal for this purpose. This Course does not set aside time for personal processing of emotions.

Some pre-requisite courses are required prior to enrollment.
